WINASAP2003

- WINASAP2000 renamed to WINASAP2003
 - WINASAP2003 was designed to support the ANSI X12N transaction syntax
 - Capable of transmitting Professional, Institutional, and Dental claims in the ANSI X12N 837 format
 - Retains the look and feel of WINASAP2000

WINASAP2003

- Advantages
 - Maintain patient and provider data
 - Quicker claim entry
 - Direct telecommunication interface
 - Field tested
 - Easy to use windows-based environment
 - Free

WINASAP2003

 - Basic navigation of the WINASAP2000 was retained
 - Reference files look the same
 - Several fields were added that were not supported in the current formats
 - WINASAP2003 has the capability to import the Patient and Provider information
 - Claim information cannot be imported
 - CMS X12N Implementation Guides are used to determine the fields, field names, and the order of data entry

WINASAP2003

- Situational Fields
 - Over 900 new situational fields are available across the X12N Professional, Dental, and Institutional transactions
 - Two types of situations that activate these fields
 - Programmatic
 - Procedural
 - Once a situation is known by WINASAP2003, it displays the appropriate fields for that situation – both required and optional – in a separate window
 - The data integrity of the situation is always maintained

WINASAP2003

- Programmatic Situations
 - Those that the application can determine given the data available
 - For example, upon entering the date of birth of a recipient, the calendar age is calculated. If the calendar age is less than twenty-nine days, then the birth weight becomes a required field for this situation

WINASAP2003

- Procedural Situations
 - Those that are known by the provider, but cannot be determined with the data available
 - For example, if the services on the claim are due to an accident, and you check the accident indicator, then it will trigger other fields to be populated

- Nursing Facility Capability
 - WINASAP2003 supports Nursing Facility claims with the use of X12N 837 Institutional format
 - Users must build a template for each of their patients
 - The template allows for repetitive claim generation

WINASAP2003

- Report Retrieval
 - WINASAP2003 will be able to retrieve the
 - X12N 997 Functional Acknowledgement
 - X12N 824 Application Advice
 - These transactions will automatically be reconciled with the appropriate claim transmission so that the user may correct the error if applicable and resubmit
